

non and the ringing of bells, like the Fourth of July, and this year will come upon us in a blaze of glory. But the old-time friendliness shall be known in Manhattan no more.